Stassen Unfolds Plan To Cut Forces

Would Limit U.S., Russia To 1,700,000

Second, Third Steps Of Reduction Plan Unfolded At London

LONDON, June 25 (AP)—The United States today proposed cuts in U. S. and Soviet armed forces to 1,700,000 men each if the world political climate improves. In immediate reaction Russia was non-committal.

There are about 2,800,000 men in the U. S. armed services. The best estimate of Soviet military manpower is 4 1/2 million.

U. S. Delegate Harold E. Stassen told the U. N. Disarmament subcommittee the manpower reductions could take place in three stages.

As outlined to the subcommittee last Thursday, Stassen said the United States would agree immediately and without conditions to bring U. S. and Soviet armed forces down to 2 1/2-million men each.

Followup Steps Unfolded

Then he unfolded for the first time the second and third steps to ease the immense burden of arms and standing armies.

Each country would cut forces to 2,100,000 as a second step and to 1,700,000 as a third step, he said. But neither step could be taken without progress in settling such chronic problems as reunification of Germany.

Britain and France agreed to reduce their forces to 750,000 in the first stage and to 700,000 and 650,000 men in the second and third.

Spokesmen for both countries also tied the second and third stages to political settlements.

Soviet Delegate Valerian Zorin said he would reserve judgment on the Western proposals until he knows more of what is meant by political settlements.

German Reunity One Factor

Neither Stassen nor spokesmen for the other Western nations would outline exactly what political issues have to be settled first.

Stassen made clear, however, that one factor would be German reunification. Diplomatic informants have said the unification of divided Korea, once more a source of great concern, is another.

Highly placed Western sources said the only criterion for judging future political conditions would be the total picture.

The second and third steps might depend not only on present political issues but on any future quarrel or incident that might arise, they said.

Horse Runs Into Train, Killing Animal, Rider

ARKADELPHIA, Ark., June 25 (AP)—A frightened horse ran into a freight train today, and the horse and its 14-year-old rider were killed.

The victim was Charles Wayne Roach.

Roach was riding with several companions. Richard Beal, one of them, said Roach's horse seemed to become frightened and raced toward the crossing. The Missouri Pacific freight blocked the crossing before the runaway horse reached it. The animal crashed into the train about midway.

Miss Angeli had sued for $208,410 as the result of an accident on Feb. 25, 1955.

Cheasty Tells Of Inquiry Spy Deal With Hoffa

WASHINGTON, June 25 (AP)—John C. Cheasty, a lawyer-investigator from Brooklyn, testified today that Midwest Teamsters Union boss Jimmie Hoffa negotiated an $18,000 price with him to spy on the Senate Rackets Committee.

Hoffa, 44, a Teamsters Union vice president, is being tried jointly with Hyman I. Fischbach, Miami attorney, on charges they conspired to bribe Cheasty to get a job on the rackets group staff and feed back its secrets to Hoffa.

Cheasty said he went to Detroit and asked Hoffa for $2,000-a-month for the alleged spying job. He said Hoffa, feeling the labor probe wouldn't last long or amount to much, set an $18,000 over-all fee.

"I was to be a spy on the committee," said Cheasty, a nonhigh-brow type whose "dese" and "dose" expressions punctuated his testimony before a federal court jury.

It has been revealed that Cheasty, a former Secret Service and revenue agent and Navy intelligence officer, secretly told the rackets committee chairman, Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.), and the FBI all about his deal with Hoffa.

Jeanne Crain, Family Rescued From Yacht

NEWPORT BEACH, Calif., June 25 (AP)—A "second honeymoon" yacht voyage almost ended in tragedy for movie actress Jeanne Crain, her husband Paul Brinkman and their four sons.

They were rescued last night after their 51-foot yacht Pavane drifted onto rocks on the Newport jetty with its motor dead and its hull taking on water.

Miss Crain and Brinkman became seasick and exhausted as the vessel wallowed helplessly in the swells. The sons, Robert, 12, Paul, 10, Mike, 8, and Gene, 5, managed to stay on their feet.

Miss Crain said she and her husband had decided on a "second honeymoon" cruise while she was at liberty between pictures.

Woman, Son Slain In Gun Battle By Wife Traders

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., June 25 (AP)—A truck driver and a photographer, who had been close friends before they traded wives, exchanged gunshots early today in a duel that killed the photographer's wife and her son.

The truck driver, Thomas Whitaker, 36, enraged over too few chances to visit the children of his first marriage, surrendered at police headquarters while an 11-hour search was still on in a woods near the shooting scene.

Dead in the gun battle in the darkened home of photographer Stewart Martin, 49, in suburban Westwood were Whitaker's former wife, Mrs. Alma Whitaker Martin, 39, and their son, Jack Whitaker, 10.

Missile Expert Pleads Guilty To Minor Counts

HUNTSVILLE, Ala., June 25 (AP)—Col. John C. Nickerson Jr., 41, cemented a deal with the Army today as his court-martial opened. He pleaded guilty to watered-down charges of breaching security in a dawning guided missile era, with sentence to be fixed later.

The Army confirmed that it accepted a pretrial offer by Nickerson to plead guilty to 15 minor counts of security laxness if three major counts of espionage and perjury were dropped.

The Army would not say how long ago the deal was made, nor would a spokesman say why the Army accepted it. However, by civil court standards, a lesser plea is usually accepted when the prosecution feels it cannot sustain the graver charge.

The defense immediately launched an appeal for leniency, arguing that Nickerson's was a crime of patriotism, meriting praise rather than punishment.

"Loyalty to the Army and country" was the motive ascribed to the Army missile expert by Defense Atty. Ray H. Jenkins. Nickerson helped himself to secret defense data to try to preserve a major role for the Army in any future missile war.

Nickerson's sentencing still is several days away. During that time some 15 defense witnesses—including Nickerson himself—are expected to try to win him leniency. He could get 30 years in prison and a dishonorable discharge. But the 10-man court-martial board—his jury—can send him from the courtroom without punishment.

First of the defense witnesses was Dr. Ernst Stuhlinger, a co-worker with Nickerson and one of the world's foremost missile scientists. One of the developers of Nazi Germany's V2 rocket, he fled to the West to escape the Russians after World War II and is now a naturalized American citizen.

Stuhlinger paid warm praise to Nickerson as scientist, soldier, and the man whom he said stuck out his own neck to save the Army's guided missile program from maiming or extinction.

Stuhlinger credited Nickerson with holding together for the Army a shocked, despondent band of ex-German scientists who form what he called the best missile "team" in the nation, if not the world. With Defense Department policies threatening the Army program they had devoted years to, Stuhlinger added, they were being wooed with lucrative offers from private industry.

Stuhlinger, conceding bad judgment to Nickerson, said nevertheless that to punish him and withhold his service from the Army will slow the nation's missile development program to a noticeable degree.

Nickerson contended the Army is in a better position than the Air Force to develop and employ Intermediate Range Ballistic Missiles—credible weapons of the future that will seek out enemy targets 1,500 miles away. So far as is known, the Army leads the (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 25 (AP)—The Illinois House today defeated a proposed constitutional amendment for lowering the voting age from 21 to 18.

"Task Force" Plan Drafted By Governors

McKeldin Predicts Approval Of Ike's Survey Proposal

WILLIAMSBURG, Va., June 25 (AP)—The 49th annual governors' conference moved quickly today to meet President Eisenhower's request for a survey of the possibility of transferring some federal government functions back to the states.

North Carolina's Democratic Gov. Luther H. Hodges announced after a closed meeting the conference resolutions committee was drafting a resolution he said would deal with Eisenhower's proposal to establish a federal-state task force to study the question.

Although Hodges would not predict the final form of the resolution, it was expected to call for creation of a governors committee to meet with a group designated by Eisenhower.

Despite widespread skepticism that any concrete results can be obtained, the conference is expected to adopt the resolution tomorrow.

McKeldin Submits Proposal

Hodges said the resolutions group had decided not to accept any of seven of eight proposals laid before it by individual governors but would draft its own resolution.

One of these proposals was submitted by GOP Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin of Maryland, who a few hours earlier had said he was "convinced nothing can be done about it."

McKeldin was joined by Democratic Gov. Averell Harriman of New York in predicting the conference will approve such a resolution.

But Harriman made it clear at a news conference he doubts any material results will flow from a study of the complicated field of federal and state powers and taxation.

Eisenhower said in an address at the governors' annual state dinner last night federal taxes could be reduced more than state taxes are raised by transferring some functions back to the states.

Harriman Sarcasitic

Harriman asked sarcastically if Eisenhower proposed to have the states take over farm price supports, social security and national defense.

Harriman said that instead of decentralizing government functions, the Eisenhower administration was moving in the direction of expanding Washington's operations. He cited as examples Eisenhower's proposals for federal aid to education, an interstate highway program, urban renewal and disaster relief.

McKeldin's resolution would call on the chairman of the conference, Democratic Gov. Thomas B. Stanley of Virginia, to name a committee of governors representing all sections of the country to "study tax sources which the federal government could abandon and which could be adopted by the states."

Senate Unit Votes Extra Postal Funds

WASHINGTON, June 25 (AP)—The Senate Appropriations Committee today approved a money bill granting the Post Office Department an extra 133 million dollars to avert sharp cuts in postal service in the fiscal year starting Monday.

The measure, already passed by the House, has been promised early consideration in the Senate. The committee gave it hurry-up approval without change from the form in which the House had passed the bill yesterday.

Ike's Plane Repaired

WASHINGTON, June 25 (AP)—The White House said today that the President's personal plane, the Columbine III, is ready to fly again.

The craft developed electrical trouble before the President took off from Langley Field, Va., early today, forcing him to take an Air Force C54 back to Washington.

Prices Hit New High For Ninth Straight Month

WASHINGTON, June 25 (AP)—The groundswell of inflation reached another high water mark in May. It sent consumer prices up three-tenths of one per cent—to an all-time peak for the ninth consecutive month.

Officials of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, which announced the rise today, said June probably is setting another record. July may see some leveling off, they said, and the harvest month of August may bring a decline.

The cost of living increase, coupled with shorter working hours in May, caused a drop of one-half of one per cent in the buying power of the average factory worker's paycheck.

But it brought pay increases to almost a million employees working under "escalator" contracts geared to the rise and fall of consumer prices.

Some 750,000 in the steel, iron, aluminum and container industries gained 4 cents an hour; 115,000 in meat packing got three cents; 105,000 garment workers gained one or two cents.

The consumer price index, representing the cost of typical purchases by the average city family, rose to 119.6 per cent of the 1947-9 average.

This meant the consumer dollar has lost about four cents in purchasing power since the current uptrend began 15 months ago. The climb has been interrupted only since March, 1956; that was in August, 1956.

Average spendable earnings of a factory worker and three dependents dropped 17 cents a week from April to May. After tax deductions, his paycheck was $74.47. This was still $2.52 above May a year ago. But because of inflation the "real" earnings—meaning, the purchasing power of the paycheck—showed no gain for the year. The additional pay was consumed by higher prices.

Food was the prime upward force last month. Food prices advanced seven-tenths of one per cent because of seasonal gains in fresh produce and meat.

House Votes 392-2 For Permanent SBA

WASHINGTON, June 25 (AP)—The House voted today to make the four-year-old Small Business Administration a permanent federal agency and to give it expanded powers to help small business concerns.

By a 392-2 rollcall vote it passed and sent to the Senate a bill which, among other things, would lower the interest rate on SBA business loans and increase the amount of its lending authority.

Woman Killed In D.C. Bus-Car Crash Aftermath

WASHINGTON, June 25 (AP)—A Washington woman was killed today by a police car which had just collided with an ambulance carrying victims of a bus accident.

Killed was Ellen Salwach, 52, a switchboard operator at the Mayflower Hotel.

Police said the car which struck the woman at Scott Circle was driven by police Inspector Archie H. Winfree.

None of those hurt in the car-bus collision during a heavy shower was reported in serious condition.

Police said the bus was driven by Isaac Richman, 46, and the car involved by Marjorie Bushong, 60, of Chevy Chase, Md. The bus driver's hand was injured, the driver of the car suffered a fractured knee.

Hollywood Lawyer Found Dead In Pool

NEWHALL, Calif., June 25 (AP)—Atty. S. S. (Sammy) Hahn, 68, who handled divorce suits for scores of motion picture personalities, was found dead in a swimming pool at his cabin near this Los Angeles suburb today.

Cause of death was not immediately determined.

Hahn had been in ill health in recent months. He underwent major abdominal surgery two years ago.

Hahn had handled more than 3,000 divorce cases. Among the cases which attracted much attention were Jess Barker's suit against Susan Hayward, and Nora Eddington Flynn Haymes' action against Dick Haymes.

Other clients included Jane Withers, George Bancroft, Francesca De Scaffa and Roxanne Spretels.

He formerly was legal counsel for the Scripps newspapers.

Hurricane Audrey Roars Toward Louisiana, Texas

NEW ORLEANS, June 25 (AP)—One of nature's rarest terrors—a hurricane in June—today thundered toward the Louisiana and Texas coasts. One hundred mile winds swirled around its center.

Hurricane Audrey, first of the season, was about 350 miles southeast of Brownsville, Tex., at 4 p.m. It was located during the day by a Navy plane in the southwest Gulf of Mexico.

The New Orleans Weather Bureau estimated winds at 100 m.p.h. near the center and predicted slow northward movement tonight and a buildup in wind velocity.

Gales extended outward 150 miles to the north and east of the center and 50 miles to the southwest.

The Weather Bureau said it probably would move about five m.p.h. during the night.

Sen. Kerr Duels With Humphrey At Fiscal Probe

WASHINGTON, June 25 (AP)—Sen. Kerr (D-Okla.), finishing three days' questioning of Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey, asserted today the result of the administration's fiscal policies "has been almost catastrophic."

Kerr produced government figures which he said showed that the principal beneficiary of these policies in the past four years had been those receiving interest on money they lend.

The figures, he said, show that labor's share of the national income has increased 3.7 per cent in the period, while small unincorporated businesses are down 4.5 per cent; farmers are down 36.5 per cent; corporation profits up 16.4 per cent; and interest income up 40 per cent.

Humphrey did not dispute the figures, but asked Kerr: "Don't you think you should put in there the cost-of-living statistics?"

The secretary's principal argument in support of the hard money policies he has favored has been that they stopped inflation for three years and kept it from being worse in the past year.

Kerr's lengthy questioning of Humphrey was in connection with the Senate Finance Committee's probe of the nation's financial condition.

The two men, both in the multi-million dollar category in personal wealth, duelled with sharp verbal thrusts at times, but most of their exchanges were good humored and softened with smiles.

When Kerr finished, the committee recessed until tomorrow morning. Humphrey's questioning at that time will be Sen. Edward Martin (R-Pa.) first Republican to have a turn.

The secretary acknowledged that he has failed to reach his goal of shifting a larger share of the national debt to long-term securities.

Le May Retires As SAC Chief

Omaha, June 25 (AP)—Gen. Curtis E. Le May turned over the Strategic Air Command today to his one-time deputy. The traditional military ceremonies almost got a droning.

Six words marked the end of Le May's 10-year assignment during which the fledgling command developed from a handful of aging B29 left over from World War II to the world's most powerful bomber force.

As the orders were read assigning Le May to the post of vice-chief of staff of the Air Force and Lt. Gen. Thomas Power as commander in chief of SAC, Le May turned to Power and said "I relinquish command."

Power replied "I assume command."

Heavy rain and a few hailstones fell just before the ceremonies at the Offutt Air Force Base parade ground. But as the troops started to assemble before the reviewing stand just across the street from the home Le May has occupied since 1948, the rain stopped as if on cue.

Military and civilian dignitaries quickly mounted the stand for the publishing of the orders effecting the change of command, and the review of the troops.

Soviet Pledge Must Precede Any Trial Ban

Dulles Outlines American Terms For Suspension

WASHINGTON, June 25 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said today the United States would be willing to end nuclear tests provided Russia agreed in advance to end production of nuclear materials for weapons by a specified date.

Dulles stressed that as part of any "first stage" disarmament agreement, Russia must also allow outside inspectors to check on any Soviet pledge to stop tests and production of atomic bombs.

Dulles spoke out at a news conference in an apparent move to dispel confusion over the U. S. attitude toward banning tests.

There were these related developments: 1. In London, Harold E. Stassen proposed a reduction of U. S. and Soviet armed forces, in three stages, that would limit their military manpower to 1,700,000 men each. The American disarmament delegate said, however, that a reduction below 2 1/2 million men each must depend on progress toward settling major world differences. The U. S. armed forces now total 2,800,000. Russia's are estimated at 4 1/2 million.

Gromyko Assails U. S.

2. In Moscow, Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko accused this country of using the London disarmament talks as a "screen to continue and intensify the arms race." Gromyko demanded at a news conference that U. S. military and political leaders stop making "aggressive and incendiary" statements. He referred to recent testimony by Gen. Lauris Norstad, commander NATO forces in Europe, that the Western alliance could wreak "absolute destruction" on Russia if the Soviets started a war.

In Washington, Dulles sought to clear away what he acknowledged was "confusion" resulting from President Eisenhower's news conference comments last week on disarmament.

Eisenhower seemingly hinted for the first time that a trial ban on tests could be accepted without a Russian pledge to end atomic bomb production. The White House later said there was no change in U. S. policy. Dulles elaborated today.

Other Terms Outlined

"We do not under our plan separate the suspension of testing from an agreement to have a cut-off on the use of fissionable materials for weapons purposes," he said.

Dulles also made clear that these three other important disarmament moves would have to accompany any first-step East-West disarmament agreement: 1. A promise to begin reducing atomic weapons stockpiles by turning some atomic materials into a peacetime pool.

2. An East-West agreement to reduce conventional weapons and armed forces. The Stassen proposal in London was along this line.

3. Aerial inspection zones which would be patrolled to guard against any possible surprise attack.

'United Church Of Christ' Born

Merger Unique In U.S. Protestantism

By GEORGE W. CORNELL

CLEVELAND, June 25 (AP)—Two one through the loving zeal with armies of Christians reached which we now reinforce each other in our witness for Christ...

A constitution of the new church still is to be written, adhering to a "basis of union" already agreed upon, and subject to approval of two bodies of the Congregational Christian Churches and the Evangelical and Reformed Church.

A colorful parade through six blocks of downtown Cleveland preceded the unification ceremonies.

Two abreast, nearly 1,000 clergymen and laymen, representing the merging bodies and other denominations, marched side-by-side to the city's big Music Hall.

Flags of 18 nations where the denominations carry on mission work and of 53 denominational colleges and seminaries fluttered along the street.

Inside the auditorium, the gathering joined in a stirring hymn, "The Church's One Foundation."

After formal presentation of the merger agreements, a solemn "uniting prayer" was given by Dr. Douglas Horton, president of Harvard Divinity School and a major figure in the prolonged merger efforts.

Then Dr. Hoskins and Dr. Wagner clasped hands as a gesture of fellowship, and recited alternate pledges of unity. Then came the massed formal declaration.

Afterward, Dr. Hoskins intoned: "Blest be the tie that binds the E. and R. Church said: 'We our hearts in Christian love.'"

"We unite in mutual trust and not any wise in fear," said the Rev. Dr. Fred Hoskins, New York executive minister of the Congregational Christian General Council.

"We come to this union in faith that God has his hand in it all."

Together, the denominations have a membership of more than two million.

Declaring a "new unit of the household of God" was now established, the Rev. Dr. James E. Wagner, Philadelphia, president of the E. and R. Church said: "We our hearts in Christian love."

Bricker Plan's Chances This Year Grow Dim

WASHINGTON, June 25 (AP)—A Senate subcommittee today refused to speed up its consideration of the perennial and controversial Bricker Amendment. The action pretty well scuttled the measure's chances for Senate consideration this year.

The proposed constitutional amendment, sponsored each year since 1951 by Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio), would limit the treaty-making powers. Bricker has modified his proposal somewhat since the Senate narrowly defeated his 1954 version—the only one that ever came to a vote.

With Bricker contending that a recent Supreme Court decision "clearly demonstrated" the need for curbing treaty powers, Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill.) urged that the Senate Constitutional Rights subcommittee act quickly on the measure.

"Let the discussions come on the Senate floor," Dirksen pleaded.

Chairman Hennings (D-Mo.) objected. He said he has "some two or three dozen witnesses" who want to be heard. And Sen. Wiley (R-Wis.) sent word he knows of others who want their views heard, himself included.

Bricker's amendment would provide that "a provision of a treaty or other international agreement not made in pursuance of this Constitution shall have no force or effect."

Bolt Kills Boy, Injures Three

PARKVILLE, Md., June 25 (AP)—An inmate of the Maryland Training School for Boys, one of ten persons huddling beneath a tree during a storm, was killed today when lightning struck the tree.

Two other boys and a supervisor were stunned and were held for observation at the school dispensary. Another supervisor and the five remaining members of the work party escaped injury.

The death youth was 14-year-old Chris Dimitri of Baltimore.

The boy was sitting at the base of the tree with his head against the trunk when the bolt struck, School Superintendent Albert L. Fletcher said. The two injured inmates, one 15 and the other 16, were sleeping just in front of him.

Fletcher said Dimitri was conscious during the quarter-mile automobile trip from the tree to the administrative building, but complained of feeling sick. He collapsed just before reaching the dispensary, the superintendent said.

China Unrest Hinted In New Police Orders

HONG KONG, June 25 (AP)—Red China's leader, Mao Tse-tung, ordered regulations for the nation's police published throughout the country today. The order hinted at possible trouble in the wake of a torrent of internal complaints touched off by Mao's current "rectification" campaign.

Redefining the people's police as a major instrument of "democratic dictatorship" and an armed administrative force for public security, Mao outlined for them these tasks: To deal with counter-revolutionaries; prevent sabotage by "other criminals"; preserve public order and security; protect public property and the interests of citizens' safeguard "the people's democratic system" and ensure the smooth development of "Socialist (Communist) construction."

Mao advised the people's police to "rely on the masses of the people constantly, keep close contact with them, listen to their opinions and accept their supervision."

The Communist leadership issued these regulations after a discussion by the standing committee of the National People's Congress. The congress itself, normally a rubber stamp legislature for the Communist Central Committee, may develop into an actual forum for debate at this session.

The order came as more than 1,000 delegates for the congress, Red China's legislature, gathered for a session Thursday in an atmosphere of national ferment and wide open discussion of the nation's woes. Some heads are likely to roll.

"Difficult Decision" Foster Parents' Appeal To Adopt Child Rebuffed

ANNAPOLIS, June 25 (AP)—The Court of Appeals today made what it admitted was a "difficult decision."

It upheld a lower court order denying foster parents permission to adopt an infant they had nursed back to health.

But it left the door open for the middle-aged Baltimore couple to file another adoption petition if the child is not adopted by a younger couple within six months.

The high court affirmed a Baltimore Circuit Court order dismissing the petition of Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Frantum for adoption of the one-year-old boy.

Judge Hall Hammond dissented from the majority decision, but his opinion was not filed today.

The high court's opinion said the child was turned over to the Department of Public Welfare by an unwed mother and was placed with the Frantums for foster care.

The Frantums "nursed him to health, and becoming very attached to him, they asked the welfare department for permission to adopt him," the opinion said.

When the request was refused by the welfare department, the couple filed an adoption petition in Circuit Court.

In announcing his decision to dismiss the Frantums' petition, Circuit Judge Anselm Sodaro said he had to consider their age and the fact that "a child should be placed, wherever possible, with people of the same religion."

Frantum, who is 53, and his wife, who is 47, are of Lutheran faith. The child's mother requested that her son be raised a Catholic.

The high court opinion, written by Chief Judge Frederick W. Brune, pointed out that the adoption law fixes no maximum age limit.

Senate Group Favors U.N. Special Session

WASHINGTON, June 25 (AP)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee today urged that a special session of the United Nations General Assembly be called to consider Russian oppression in Hungary.

It approved a resolution urging the United States to take the lead in seeking such a session to consider the recent report of a special five-nation U. N. committee. That committee termed Russian action in last fall's revolt "a massive armed intervention by one power on the territory of another."

The resolution, sponsored by Senate Republican Leader Knowland (Calif.) and Sen. Douglas (D-Ill.), will be brought up in the Senate next week.

NEW YORK, June 25 (AP)—The National Assn. of Manufacturers today commended President Eisenhower's proposal that the states take over some of the federal government functions and revenues.

"We pray and hope that the steady drift of responsibility and power to Washington will be reversed as a result of your proposal," Ernest G. Swigert, NAM president, said in a telegram to President Eisenhower.

"This could well become your monument in history, more significant to the future of the American people than any of your other great accomplishments," the telegram said.

Daughter To Visit Ingrid This Summer

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Jenny Ann Lindstrom says she'll visit her actress mother, Ingrid Bergman, in Paris this summer. They have not seen each other since 1951.

Miss Lindstrom, soon to be 19, said she, her father, stepmother, year-old stepbrother and Dr. Agnes J. Rovaneck, a Czech-born pediatrician, will leave Los Angeles next week, bound for Stockholm.

Her father, Dr. Peter Lindstrom, is a neurosurgeon on the medical school faculty at University of Utah in Salt Lake City. Miss Lindstrom has just completed her freshman year at University of Colorado. She came here to visit her father.

Last November, Secretary of Defense Wilson assigned the IRBM role to the Air Force and directed the Army to restrict itself to 200-mile missiles. This threatened to rob the Army of its Jupiter, already successfully tested.

Nickerson, who played a big role in developing the Jupiter, set out to force a reversal of Wilson's mandate. He used secret missile data to press his argument through newspapers and industrial scientists.

As a result, 18 specifications of security laxness, espionage and perjury were lodged against him by the Army.

Reddick Fined $100 For Beating Wife

BALTIMORE, June 25 (AP)—Dr. Robert H. Reddick, who has been in and out of courtrooms for more than a year in a medical licensing dispute, found himself in somewhat different circumstances today.

The 42-year-old physician was brought before Magistrate Simon Schonfield in Northeastern District Police Court on a formal charge of striking and assault upon his wife, Marie. At the end of the 45-minute hearing, the magistrate said:

"I find you guilty. You gave her an awful beating. The fine is $100 and costs."

Dr. Reddick paid the fine after being told that he would have to post $500 bail to take an appeal.

Reddick, ousted state psychiatrist, headed a rump homeopathic medical licensing board before that group was stripped of its licensing powers. He is now under indictment on a charge of conspiring to violate Maryland's new Medical Practices Act.

Dr. Reddick was arrested shortly after midnight last night at his home in the 600 block of Cedarcroft Rd. by Patrolman John Laufert.

Mrs. Reddick was treated at Union Memorial Hospital last night for a black eye, swollen forehead and redness and soreness of the neck. Testifying that her 245-pound husband beat her, she also said:

"I am a registered nurse and have been working 12 hours a day in New York for the past six weeks. While I was there, he (Reddick) had a blonde living in the house with him and acting as hostess."

Reddick testified:

"I have not struck her at all. She fell, being drunk and intoxicated, and she got drunk on gin that she purchased with grocery money."

A neighbor woman, Mrs. Rose Barlow, told Magistrate Schonfield she looked out her dining room window late yesterday to see Reddick striking his wife "many times with his fists."

State Farmers Take Advantage Of Dry Weather

COLLEGE PARK, Md., June 25 (AP)—The tempo of field work stepped up on Maryland and Delaware farms last week, spurred on by hot, dry weather, the Federal State Crop Reporting Service said today.

Although the weather cut soil moisture it made for ideal field work conditions, agricultural observers said.

Harvesting of barley, hay and vegetables held the spotlight and excellent progress also was made in cultivating, side-dressing, spraying and in planting of soybeans and tobacco.

Southern Maryland tobacco farmers nearly finished transplanting last week. Hornworms and flea beetles have appeared in all five tobacco counties. Flea beetles were particularly heavy on newly set plants in Prince Georges County but in general infestations of both beetle and hornworm were not considered to be unusually severe.

The report, covering the week ended June 22nd, said 90 per cent of the soybeans had been planted in the two-state region.

Eastern Shore snap beans were moving in heavy volume to fresh market outlets and to processors. The north central Maryland harvest is due to get underway in about two weeks. Mexican bean beetles and bean leaf beetles were damaging beans in most sections.

Cucumbers were hard hit by dry weather on the lower Delmar Peninsula.

The dry weather, plus sprays, have helped arrest blight on shore tomatoes.

Harvesting of winter oats was becoming more general and next week farmers were expected to turn to wheat combining.

Pastures in most sections deteriorated during the week. Some recovery was reported in counties along the northern borders which were favored with recent rains.

In the commercial fruit area of Washington County apples and peaches are developing under favorable growing conditions, the report said. Peaches had reached pit-hardening stage. On the Shore, orchardists were completing the third cover spray on peaches and getting ready for the fifth cover spray on apples.

License Problem

BALTIMORE, June 25 (AP)—Frank J. Hanson, chairman of Baltimore's liquor licenses commission, says the city has an excessive number of outlets for liquor sales but it is difficult to reduce that number.

Hanson's views were contained in a letter to grand jury liquor license committee made public today. Hanson said the condition "no doubt contributes to crime and juvenile delinquency" but it is difficult to determine which licenses should be continued and which discontinued.

Lightning Strikes Artillery Range

Md. Firemen's Auxiliary Has Fund Shortage

BALTIMORE, June 25 (AP)—An official of a bonding company said today a claim has been filed by his firm after discovery of a shortage in funds of the State Volunteer Firemen Assn.'s Ladies Auxiliary.

E. C. Parrish of the U. S. Fidelity and Guaranty Co. and Thomas F. Mannion, the firm's claim investigator, met today with top officials of the auxiliary to discuss the shortage of $14,000 to $24,000. Conferring with Parish and Mannion were Mrs. Nellie Fox of Landover Hills, Prince Georges County, newly elected president of the auxiliary, and Mrs. Helen Mitchell of Pikesville, Baltimore County, Mrs. Fox's immediate predecessor.

Not present at the meeting was the woman covered by the bond, who kept the accounts in which the shortage was discovered. She was not identified by name.

Mrs. Mitchell said the shortage was first uncovered in a preliminary audit of the auxiliary's books by a Baltimore auditing firm. Paul Wooden of the company said he had "not gone far enough" to discuss the condition of the accounts.

The auxiliary held its annual convention last weekend in Ocean City.

Mrs. Mitchell made the $14,000 to $24,000 estimate and added, "We just won't know the full story until the audit is complete."

Milk Market Order Plan Is Abandoned

WASHINGTON, June 25 (AP)—The Agriculture Department announced today it has stopped proceedings looking toward the establishment of a federal milk marketing order for Baltimore.

It acted at the request of the Maryland Cooperative Milk Producers Assn., Inc. The department said the association, which proposed an order last fall, has told it that market conditions have changed and it no longer believes an order is necessary.

The order would have been designed to help stabilize milk prices and supplies. Similar orders are now in effect in upwards of 75 other urban market areas of the country.

Presbyterian Synod Names Ruling Elder

A former moderator of the Baltimore Presbytery, Guenther was appointed to serve one year as vice moderator of the synod and as such will be the ruling elder.

His appointment was announced by the Rev. Charles W. Blaker, who yesterday was elected moderator by the 150 ministers and laymen attending the convention at Hood College.

Trial Of Donohoe's Libel Suit Postponed

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., June 25 (AP)—Trial of James M. Donohoe's $65,000 libel suit against Gov. Underwood was postponed until September today because an Underwood attorney is in the hospital.

Edmund A. Marshall of Huntington, another member of the Republican governor's counsel, moved for the continuance in Cabell County Circuit Court, noting that attorney F. Paul Chambers of Charleston had been injured in a traffic accident.

Donohoe, a prominent West Virginia Democrat and Huntington hotel owner, claims Underwood slandered him while campaigning for governor last fall. Donohoe then was serving as president of the State Board of Control as an appointee of Democratic Gov. William C. Marland.

On The Line by Bob Considine

WASHINGTON, June 25 (INS)—My mother died here in Washington the other day. She lived 86 years, nine months and three days.

It wasn't long enough. Now that she's gone on to something better the thought occurs that we never fully appreciate the priceless gift she had of being interested. Strange that two words as closely allied phonetically as interesting and interesting should have so little relationship.

Lord knows she was interesting enough, with her treasury of stories out of the past and her comments on current topics, such as her belief that the sun was more likely to shine on F. D. Roosevelt than on routine presidents, and her quiet conviction that the atomic tests have changed the weather.

But her brightest facet was, to repeat, that she was interested. There was nothing that her army of descendants could do, collectively or individually, that ever bored her. There was nothing that took place in the world that she considered beneath her notice or did not try to understand. My mother was as alert to the importance of a new tooth in the head of one of her 14 great-grandchildren as she was to the trip that her son George made to Australia during the war.

She read her newspaper for the better part of three quarters of a century. In late years, she turned instinctively to the Obits. Those pages saluted the disappearance of her generation, and some of the generation that followed. "Oh, my," she'd say, as she'd hit a name that rang a dusty bell down a long lane of memory. "Oh, my."

The two events each year that stuck out in my mind, as a kid, were supervised by my mother. One was the erection and trimming of our Christmas tree; the other was the annual church picnic at Marshall Hall, Md., down the Potomac River across from Mt. Vernon.

Our Christmas trees—in fact, all the trees for sale in the old Swampoodle section of Washington—had a "good" and a "bad" side. They cost two bits generally. To look right they had to be turned this way and that in their cast-iron, 3-screw holder until the bare side was best hidden. It was my job to lie under the untrimmed tree, my head buried in the sweet sharp needles, hands on the two lowest limbs. I would hear my mother calling from the other side of the room. "Just a little more. Turn it a little more. There."

She'd keep the tree up for weeks and weeks after the neighbors had burned theirs.

The picnic at Marshall Hall involved, for the young, preliminary weeks of selling old newspapers, rags, bones and bottles to the junk man for the nickles that meant admission to the death-defying roller coaster. On the appointed day—Generally August 1—we'd go with the rest of St. Aloysius parish to the 7th street wharf where lay the Charles McAllister. We were starchy in white, and she was a sidewheeler with a great black iron rocker-arm on top. Gave off a lot of smoke, as I recall. But her horn—signifying the beginning of the voyage down the river—was a greater thrill than any blast let loose years later by the Queen Elizabeth or the United States.

My mother, who was a widow, would stand gentle guard over the lunch basket throughout the voyage. Then we'd tramp to the picnic ground and spread the wonders of that feast. We'd have hardboiled eggs, baloney sandwiches, big nobby tomatoes that you licked first so the salt would stay on, and lemonade made from the fruit my mother had squeezed the night before and the iron water from the picnic grounds pump.

My mother lived through four U. S. wars and kept perpetual watch on political administrations from Grant's to Eisenhower's. She entertained some hope of living long enough in Washington, D. C., to see it and herself get representation as well as taxation.

But my mother died without complaint. I've never known a less-demanding person or a kinder one or one more capable of rising above adversity.

The President once said, on visiting the Abilene home in which he was reared, "we didn't know until years later that we were poor."

My mother brought us up that way, too, and for one simple and wonderful reason: she didn't know it herself.

Z. Garner Jones Dies At Annapolis

ANNAPOLIS, June 25 (AP)—Z. Garner Jones, a member of the Anne Arundel County Planning and Zoning Board and a former member of the county Board of Police Examiners, died today of a heart condition at Anne Arundel General Hospital. He was 60.

A native of Broomes Island, Md., Jones operated an automobile agency in Annapolis for many years. He was active in Democratic politics in the county and at one time was a candidate for the State Senate.

He lived at Turkey Point, and was a member of the Annapolis Yacht Club, the Elks, the Fleet Reserve Club and the International Assn. of Police Chiefs.

Survivors include his wife, two-step-daughters, a step-son, a sister, a brother and eight grand children.

Funeral services will be held here Thursday.

It is estimated that there are less than one hundred books now in existence that were made before the year 1500. About one-third of these are owned by the Library of Congress.

Smith Is Reelected Brentwood Mayor

BRENTWOOD, Md., June 25 (AP)—William Howard Smith will serve a second two-year term as mayor—with double his old salary of $40 a month.

Voters in this Prince Georges County town in an election yesterday gave Smith 301 votes to 174 for Clarence F. Shelley, 50, the town engineer. Shelley was the only other candidate for mayor.

The voters approved also an increase from $20 to $40 in the salaries for councilmen.

In the only other contest for office, Councilman Albert M. Brown received 66 votes to defeat his sole opponent, Charles Robert Sampson, who received 18 votes from first ward residents.

R. Paul Smith Retires As PE Head

The retirement of R. Paul Smith from the presidency of the Potomac Edison Company was announced yesterday following the quarterly meeting of the board of directors in Frederick, Md. Mr. Smith will continue to serve as a member of the board of directors of the Potomac Edison Company.

Mr. Smith's retirement climaxes nearly 50 years of service with the company and its predecessors, a period that has seen him become almost as well-known for his civic and humanitarian interests as for his business activities.

For the past 25 years of working life devoted to one organization, Mr. Smith has held the position of president of the Potomac Edison Company, Potomac Light and Power Co., South Penn Power Company, and Northern Virginia Power Company and during his administration, the utility has enjoyed a remarkable growth.

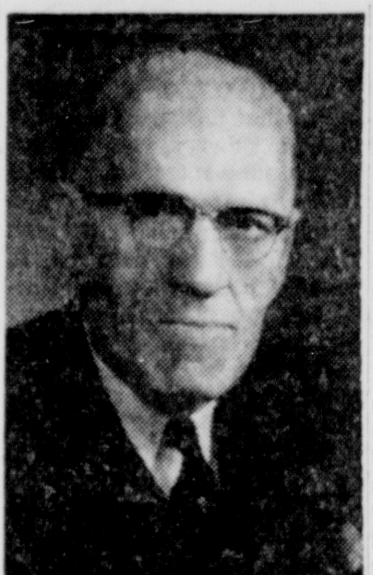

Although the Potomac Edison Company's corporate existence dates back only to 1923, Mr. Smith's association with the utility business began in 1909, the year in which he graduated from Blue Ridge College at New Windsor, Md. At that time he was employed as secretary to the manager of the Washington, Frederick and Gettysburg Railroad, one of Potomac Edison's "ancestor" companies, and in 1912 he became general agent.

In those days the primary use of electricity was for street railway purposes. However, as more and more applications for electricity were developed, many trolley companies such as the Hagerstown and Frederick Railway Company, successor to the Washington, Frederick and Gettysburg Railroad, found that residential and commercial uses of electricity were rapidly outstripping transportation needs.

As a result of this situation, the H&F Railway Company established a separate department to handle this business and Mr. Smith was appointed as its first head in 1914. Thus began the first phase of the principal work to which the remainder of his entire business life would be devoted.

Early in 1922 growth and mergers brought a change in company names and individual responsibilities. The H&F Railway became the Potomac Public Service Company and Mr. Smith became its general manager. It is interesting to note that in this same year the Potomac Public Service Company was serving some 19,000 customers and selling approximately 80 million kilowatt hours annually. It was in the following year, 1923, that the present Potomac Edison Company was formed and the first unit of what is now the R. Paul Smith Power Station at Williamsport, Md., was installed.

Late in 1924, the Potomac Edison Company acquired control of the Blue Ridge Transportation Company largely as a means of protecting and supplementing the dwindling street railway operations.

In the following year Mr. Smith was elected commercial vice-president of the growing operation.

It was in September of 1932 that Mr. Smith became president of the utility then serving 46,000 customers and selling them 180 million kilowatt hours of electricity annually. About the same time, the bus operations of the entire West Penn Electric System, comprising White Star Lines, and Penn Bus Lines were turned over to The Potomac Edison and Blue Ridge Transportation Company organizations for operation. Mr. Smith became president of these bus companies and remained such until they were sold two years ago, thus being the only president Blue Ridge ever had. This bus system operation was very extensive and successful for many years.

Under the Smith administration the growth of the Potomac Edison system has been rapid.

Approximately 153,000 customers now depend on the local utility for service, and in the last twelve months, they have consumed a billion and a quarter kilowatt hours of electricity.

During Mr. Smith's tenure of office residential customers have seen a remarkable reduction in the cost of electricity. It has dropped from an average cost of approximately 6 1/2 cents per kilowatt hour to 2 1/2 cents per kilowatt hour—a reduction of almost 60 per cent in the face of steadily rising prices for practically every commodity. In this same period the investment in the company's plant has approximately quadrupled and now represents about 100 million dollars.

He has presided over the gradual elimination of most of the company's non-electric operations, biggest single transaction having been the sale in 1935 of Potomac Edison's bus subsidiary, Blue Ridge Lines, to Greyhound Lines. Only recently he completed negotiations for the sale of the Hagerstown city bus operation—a move which to all intents and purposes ended Potomac Edison's transportation interests.

Mr. Smith has been a prominent figure in state and national utility activities. He helped to organize and served as one of the first presidents of the Maryland Utilities Association. He is a past president of the Southeastern Electric Exchange, composed of utilities serving the entire southern portion of the United States. He has also held important responsibilities in the Public Utilities Association of the Virginians.

The non-company activities of Mr. Smith have been many and amazingly diverse. He was one of the founders and first presidents of the Washington County Community Chest and is still on its board. He headed the fund-campaign for an expanded Washington County Hospital and served as president of the hospital's board of trustees for twenty years. He is president of the Board of Trustees of Hood College, vice-president of the board of Massanutten Academy and president of the board of the Hagerstown Y.M.C.A.

Among the other boards on which he serves are those of the Homewood Church Home, the National Mission of the Reformed Church, the Washington County Council of Christian Laymen, Marken and Bielfeld, Inc., the Mutual Insurance Co. of Frederick County and the Legore Lime Company of Legore, Md.

Deeply interested in the affairs of his church, Mr. Smith has, for many years, served on the consistory of Christ's Evangelical and Reformed Church of Hagerstown and has headed most of its financial endeavors, including major rebuilding projects in 1938 and 1956. Among his primary church interests is the Clever-Smith Bible Class which bears his name in association with that of the founder, the late Dr. C. C. Clever. The class is probably the largest in the denomination.

An enthusiastic Rotarian, Mr. Smith is past president of the Hagerstown Club and has an amazing attendance record of 33 consecutive perfect years.

Among the unusual honors conferred upon Mr. Smith have been his appointment in 1941 by the Governor of Maryland to the State School Survey Commission, the naming of Potomac Edison's major power generating station as the R. Paul Smith Station in 1947, his selection as "Alumnus of the year" by Bridgewater College of Bridgewater, Va. (Blue Ridge College became a part of Bridgewater in recent years) in 1951, conference of the degree of Doctor of Humane Letters by Franklin and Marshall College in 1953, election to the Corporation of the Theological Seminary of the Evangelical and Reformed Church in Lancaster, Pa. in 1954, appointment by Governor McKeldin in 1955 to the Maryland Port Authority, and the naming of a new dormitory in his honor at Hood College in 1956.

PE Elects New President

Election of D. E. Stultz as president of the Potomac Edison Company was announced in Frederick yesterday by the board of directors of the utility organization.

Mr. Stultz, who succeeds R. Paul Smith as president, has been serving as executive vice-president of the company the past four years and, as a result, brings to his new position broad experience and an intimate knowledge of the chief executive's responsibilities.

Mr. Stultz has been involved in practically all phases of the utility business over a period of 38 years. His first employment in this field was in 1919 in his native town of Frederick. In that year he went to work for the Hagerstown and Frederick Railway Company, a predecessor company of the present Potomac Edison System.

After working in various capacities in the electrical department of the railway organization Mr. Stultz was, in 1922, transferred to Berkeley Springs, as line foreman for that area. In this situation he demonstrated outstanding ability and initiative which brought recognition in 1924 when he was promoted to the district manager of the Northern Virginia Power Company in Winchester.

Eight years later he was again promoted. In December of 1932 Mr. Stultz was named general commercial manager of the Potomac Edison Company and moved to the general offices in Hagerstown.

In 1937, after a period of five years, Mr. Stultz was elected commercial vice president and he retained this position until his elevation to the executive vice-presidency four years ago.

In addition to his operating experience, many of Mr. Stultz's activities have been concerned with the commercial and residential loadbuilding phases of Potomac Edison's program. The success of his efforts in these fields is indicated by the increased use of electricity by Potomac Edison customers. This figure is now well in excess of the national average, whereas at the time he took over the commercial reins, it was considerably below the national average.

Wherever he has been located Mr. Stultz has taken a leading role in community activities. A former president of the Hagerstown and Washington County Community Chest, he also headed a successful fund campaign for that organization and is now a member of its board of directors. He is a past president of the Hagerstown Manufacturers' Bureau and currently a member of the board of that organization. Among the other offices he has previously held is that of president of the Maryland Utilities Association.

He is a long-time member of the Kiwanis Club, belonging to the Hagerstown Club and having previously been a member in Winchester, where he served as president.

Among the other boards of directors on which he is now serving are those of the American Cancer Society, the Home Federal Savings and Loan Association and the Hagerstown Good Will Industries, Inc.

As president of The Potomac Edison Company Mr. Stultz will also serve as president of the Northern Virginia Power Company, Potomac Light and Power Company and South Penn Power Company.

Allstate takes the red tape and high cost out of automobile insurance

Customer savings of more than 20% are commonplace

Founded by Sears, Allstate pioneered a new approach to insurance that has won nearly four million friends

You'll be a friend of Allstate's too, as soon as you become a customer—and realize the benefits you'll enjoy because of Allstate's new approach to auto insurance.

This approach, based on the small-profit, big-volume, low-overhead concept pioneered by Sears, boils down to this:

Cut red tape in paying claims . . . print policies in large type and plain language . . . make it easy to buy insurance in a relaxed manner.

How much can you save?

Allstate policyholders save different amounts, depending on different risk conditions and on where they live. The most common saving is 22% (some policyholders save as much as 38%) from rates charged by most other companies. You may save $25 or more.

How can Allstate do it?

Nearly $1 in every $4 spent with most companies goes to pay selling costs instead of to buy protection. Allstate's modern selling methods cut selling costs to the bone. You benefit by lower rates, bigger value.

Cuts red tape.

Allstate has more than 3,950 claims expeditors in the 48 states and Canada. Help is always as near as the nearest phone. And Allstate claims experts can often pay claims "on the spot."

Easy to understand policies.

Printed in readablotype, understandable language. Illustrated, too. You know exactly what you're buying.

Low-pressure selling.

You can buy Allstate over the counter at Sears, at an Allstate Insurance Center, or in your own home. Allstate Agents are listed in the Yellow Pages of your phone book.

Today, with auto insurance costs rising, wouldn't it be wise for you to investigate Allstate before you renew your policy? Until you have the Allstate facts, you don't have all the facts about auto insurance.

This modern kind of automobile insurance brings these surprising benefits:

1. Allstate may save you up to 38%.
2. Allstate cuts red tape to pay claims faster.
3. An Allstate policy is easy to read and understand.
4. Allstate makes it easy for you to buy the convenient low-pressure way.

County UF Workers Get Working Procedure Data

Representatives of the County United Fund Inc., obtained additional information on the working procedures of such public appeals over the weekend when they flew to Williamsport, Pa., to confer with United Fund officials there.

Making the trip were Lewis J. Ort, Adolf Blunk and Woodward D. Pealer, with the trip being made in Ort's private plane.

Williamsport, United Fund spokesmen pointed out, recently completed the most successful fund raising campaign in its history—with more than $450,000 being subscribed under United Fund auspices. This resulted in all associated agencies obtaining sufficient funds to carry out full programs.

Pealer said the Williamsport trip was arranged because it had been learned that many of the problems peculiar to Allegany County had been encountered when the United Fund organization was begun in the Pennsylvania town. The workings of the United Fund structure there were explained in detail, and Pealer stated that the information obtained would be of value when the Allegany County drive gets under way.

Richard Covey, executive director of the Williamsport campaign, told the local group that he attributed the success of the drive to its being a "One Fund" appeal, and the support of business, labor, industry and the general public.

The $450,000 subscribed, Covey informed the County United Fund representatives, meant that for the first time in many years the youth service, health, aid and welfare agencies had obtained sufficient funds to furnish efficient, well-rounded programs for Williamsport.

He also informed the local men that the general public in that city was enthusiastic about the one-fund appeal, and emphasized that the public was relieved to have a stop put to the overlapping succession of charity drives that had been the rule in prior years.

Boy Scout Council To Participate In United Fund

Potomac Council, Boy Scouts of America, has signed a contract with the County United Fund, Inc., whereby it agrees to participate in the one-drive fund campaign.

The contract was negotiated between the United Fund administration committee and a committee appointed by Dr. Thomas Bess, Jr., of Keyser, president of the Scout council. The Scout group included J. A. Warden, chairman, Clarence Lippel and Willis V. Smith.

The United Fund group was composed of Joseph M. Miller, W. C. Carscaden and Woodward D. Pealer.

In making announcement of the signing, Warden said the idea of participating in a one-fund appeal was approached with some trepidation since the Boy Scouts appeared to have many problems that apparently did not fit the outline of United Fund operations.

The United Fund committee proved to be very cooperative, Warden said, and the ensuing meetings were harmonious. The United Fund group "leaned over" to cooperate, Warden stated, and also permitted the Scout committee to include a rider for the agreement to cover situations not conforming with the normal pattern of Boy Scout procedures.

Others who assisted the committee in formulating the points in question concerning the Scout problems were Okey Michael, of Westernport, Dr. Albert Cook, of Frostburg, and Henry W. Price of this city. There were from ten to 12 points brought up in the discussions and agreement was reached on each one, Warden said.

Of particular concern, he explained, was auditing regulations covered in United Fund rules. The Boy Scout Council committee was informed that because of delays incurred in closing out camp receipts and expenses, any audit requested during camping periods would be allowed to be incomplete.

The group also pointed out that the scouting expenses for the first three months of the fiscal year were much higher than for the remaining months, and it was agreed that it would only be necessary for Potomac Council to give reasonable notice of the amount which would be required for any month.

It was also agreed that the Scouts would not accumulate out of money received from United Fund any reserve funds for depreciation or replacement of buildings or major equipment. Camp financing, from the standpoint of expansion and major replacements, would be handled by the Boy Scouts as in prior years. Potomac Council was also

Ridgeley Opens Drive On Weeds, Stray Dogs

Residents of Ridgeley are being urged to cut weeds from vacant lots of the town.

Mayor Charles H. Fryer, in urging full cooperation, pointed out that the weeds are a breeding place for mosquitos and a source of pollens which affect hay fever sufferers.

He added the Police Department this week will open a drive for the enforcement of the town's dog ordinance.

Owners of dogs picked up must pay $1 a day impounding fee, and animals not claimed in five days will be destroyed, he said.

Former Resident Escapes Blast

A former local man, Capt. L. D. "Lonnie" Justice, was in the Fort Sill, Okla., sector where a mortar shell fell short Saturday, killing four soldiers and wounding 14 others.

Capt. Justice, base medical instructor, had taken a group of students to the exercise for training under simulated combat conditions. His T-shirt soaked with blood, Justice said:

"I never thought I would get such a realistic demonstration at a time like this."

The mishap occurred during training exercises and a mock attack on a hill under cover of artillery and mortar fire. The shell exploded among the men instead of ahead of them.

Capt. Justice is a brother of George E. Justice and Mrs. Clayton Brant, both of Ridgeley, and Everett Justice, of Bowling Green.

He is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Justice and was born at Hendricks in Tucker County, W. Va. He attended Parsons High School, was a tackle on the football team and graduated in 1938.

After graduation, he was employed at the Amcelle plant laboratory here for two years and enlisted in the Army in 1941.

Justice won a battlefield commission as lieutenant in Burma with Merrill's Marauders. He returned home briefly in 1946 but re-entered the Army as a paratrooper at Fort Benning, Ga. He was made a captain in 1948 and later served two years in Korea. He has been at Fort Sill since 1953.

The Homemakers' hymn of the month "This Is My Father's World," was sung by the group after which the history of the hymn was given by Mrs. Rank.

Mrs. Clarence Miller and Mrs. Edith Kroll, who represented the club at the recent Short Course at the University of Maryland, gave their report of the trip. Mrs. Kroll was awarded a jeweled pin while in College Park for ten years attendance at the summer sessions.

He has not yet been formally appointed, but Gov. Underwood has said Dorman will get the $10,000-a-year post.

The commissioner will take over administration of penal, correctional and charitable institutions and tuberculosis sanitariums all now operated by the board. Mental institutions, which also have been under the board, were transferred to another new agency created by the 1957 Legislature, the Department of Mental Health.

The Billy Graham Campaign Continues

As the Rev. William Franklin Graham went into the second half of his "crusade" for a religious re-awakening in New York City, religious leaders still varied widely, as was to be expected, about the value of the crusade. It has channeled a great many new members into our churches, reported the Protestant Council of New York City, which sponsored the Graham movement.

However, many Catholic leaders have warned their flocks that the theology preached by Graham, 38-year-old Baptist, is not the valid one. And certain Episcopalian clergymen deplore his failure to preach the "social gospel" rather than individual salvation.

These last critics hold that a person can hardly lead the good life in the midst of circumstances that militate against the good life. Graham's supporters retort that (1) he does exhort for social reforms and (2) the best way to improve a community is to improve the individuals who comprise it.

Graham is like the Rev. William A. ("Billy") Sunday, his immediate predecessor as an outstanding evangelist, in organizing his campaign with meticulous and efficient care. He waits to bring his message into a community until the way has been paved by cooperative planning by the churches and ministers who have invited him.

He is unlike Sunday in being dignified, eschewing the theatrical, stressing the logical rather than the emotional in his appeal. Even his opponents pay tribute to his sincerity and selflessness, not always the case with the opponents of Sunday.

And as for those who argue that a revival has only temporary effects, "So," Sunday used to reply, "has a bath."

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

It Is A Good Sign

People sit around these days, as they have done since Adam looked on Eve, wondering how it all came about and why things are not better than they seem to be. As a matter of fact, were it not for such concern, there would have been no novels, no tales, no reminiscences and no philosophers. Who knows, there might only have been politicians who first rose to power undoubtedly by robbing the hunters of their pelts.

It is a good sign that often, these days, young people wonder whether their world has not been made cock-eyed by everybody wanting too much and getting it. Back when I was a youngster "Success" was everything and there was a magazine by such a name which ambitious young fellows read to know how to get there. So, if we worked hard, we might have an extra quarter to sit up in the gallery at a vaudeville show. And if you went with a girl, you did not neck in public because frankly the usher would throw both necker and necktie out. There was a regard for the opinions of others.

Then we all got rich and the young people have a lot more money. For instance, on a first job in New York, a kid with working papers who doesn't know anything particular, may not be paid less than one dollar an hour which is $40 a week. What is puzzling is that those overpaid youngsters are not very happy. They never get the thrill that my generation got out of an extra 25 cents. I have compared notes with them. Actually, they get no thrill at all. It's just money that you get for watching the elevators come and go or cleaning out the letters from boxes marked "In" or "Out."

And somehow their money goes faster than ours went. Of course, the youngsters are just discovering that they are living on phony money which looks big in the pay envelope and small in the chain store. And if it's a girl, she has to smear all sorts of goo on herself to look like the frail who advertised the latest color for the summer on T.V.—"peach-stone, the color that refreshes." Next summer, it will be woad which our savage ancestors used in the times of the Druids, if your ancestors came from where there were Druids.

All this costs lots of loose money, so that girls getting what ought to be big pay, cannot save very much—not unless they can hook on to a young fellow who is willing and able to cut their food bills by taking the girl out for a number of meals. This, however, involves the girl in clothes problems unless she knows how to buy skillfully and paste things together so that she looks at least as well as the dame who bought an $1800 dress because a French dressmaker said there was only one in the world. So, who cares if there is only one like that dress in the world? When I first saw it, I thought it was just a dress, maybe selling at $69.00 or even $200, like I saw in Miami Beach.

But when I was told that it cost $1,800, I had to say that the French were smart people. Just because a guy is called a couturier instead of a dressmaker, he can charge $1,800 for a dress. And how do you know it was not made by a cutter in Dave Dubinsky's union and who studied French in a night course in City College?

Why should I always be a pessimist? If some people get pleasure believing that money is proof of beauty or nobility or honor or dignity, why should I quarrel with them about it?

Each generation discovers such things for itself. My generation produced a Harry Thaw who shocked young and old and frightened the country. The present generation would regard Harry Thaw as not even being a celebrity. He shot a guy for seducing his girl—is that being sophisticated or even civilized? Also he never had more than one wife. Surely no celebrity has under three wives, not all at the same time, of course, but evenly spaced so the gossip columns will have a line on him. After all, nothing happened to Thaw except that he shot a guy who made his wife jump out of a pie. What did he want her to do—stay in the pie?

Well, it's a goofy world we live in, but as the man said, where else is there to go?

It's Not Easy - Being Uncle Sam

Egypt's New Subs: Middle Eastern Menace?

By Joseph Alsop

PARIS As these words are written, it seems highly probable that the Soviet submarines which have been presented to Egypt are on their way out of the Mediterranean into the Red Sea. Certainly that seems the likeliest explanation of the surprise closing of the Suez Canal over the weekend.

What is worse, it also seems highly probable that those same submarines flying Egyptian flags will be used in an attempt to create a new Middle Eastern crisis of the gravest sort. Certainly they can be used in this manner. And we must at least assume that the Soviets and Egyptians will not resist the temptation of a major coup until the contrary is proven.

All the gains in the dangerous Middle Eastern situation in the last months may now be at stake, in fact. The reasons why this is the case are relatively simple.

In the first place, the only prize that Israel received for the shattering defeat of the Egyptian Army was the free navigation of the Gulf of Aqaba. This narrow waterway leads from the Red Sea, where the Soviet submarines should soon be cruising, up to the Port of Elath, which is the southern doorway to Israel.

In the desperate negotiations after the Suez attack, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles flatly promised the Israelis to support them on free navigation in the Aqaba Gulf. The Egyptian government also promised Secretary Dulles not to make an issue of the matter, although the Gulf had always previously been closed by the Egyptians and Saudi Arabians, who jointly hold the narrow entrance.

In these circumstances, if the Soviet submarines are used to halt ships bound through the Aqaba Gulf to Elath, it will be immensely difficult and perhaps even impossible to prevent the Israelis from renewing their attack on Egypt. They will consider the provocation very great. They will think the United States is bound by Dulles to support them. And they will be confident, as well they may be from past experience, of defeating Nasser's armies in the kind of way that will expose the essential hollowness of the Nasser regime for good and all.

If that were the whole story, the reasons for concern would not be too great. But in fact, by stopping navigation of the Gulf of Aqaba, Nasser will automatically re-gild his tarnished prestige as the unique hero of the Arab world.

Even the Iraqi government, whose enemy Nasser has always been, will be forced to fly to his support. The Saudi Arabian, Jordanian and Lebanese governments, whose rejection of Nasser's leadership has been the great development of recent months, will be forced to reverse their courses instantaneously, also rallying to Nasser in the strongest manner possible. If it comes to war between Israel and Egypt, all these governments may be expected to fight on Egypt's side.

Worse still, Secretary Dulles will be squarely caught between two fires. Will he break his promise about the Gulf of Aqaba to the Israelis, in order to preserve his new relationship with Iraq, Saudi Arabia, Jordan and Lebanon? Or will he keep his promise to Israel, and so lose all those gains in the Middle East about which the State Department's propagandists have recently been boasting with such smug complacency? Only Secretary Dulles can answer these piercingly sharp questions.

One could be absolutely positive of the future need to answer these questions, if it were not for one thing. It is a very great risk for Nasser to provoke an Israeli attack. It seems hard to believe that he would run such a risk, even after being given such fine

Baering Down on The News

Just ten years ago England stopped construction of dreadnaughts for a more watertight form of retaliation.

When the atomic bomb pulled the plug on the ocean everything afloat went down the drain. We'll celebrate the Fourth putting warheads on bon-bons.

Grandma's knitting schedule still looks good for the atomized bopp. Purl two and drop one.

Small towns will celebrate the Fourth by de-activating the mayor, geiger-checking the official orator and touching an interplanetary ricochet off the moon.

This age of holocaustic improvements has reached the sci-

What About Those 'Short-Cuts' To Diagnosis?

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Many suggestions have been made on how to streamline the practice of medicine. An older method dates back to the days when the wonder drugs were used for everything. Someone facetiously told a group of physicians: "Give the patient penicillin. If he doesn't get well in three days, examine him."

A diagnostic instrument that looked like a slide rule was advertised recently as a short-cut for physicians. The complaints of the patients were lined up and, by maneuvering the centerpiece, the most logical diagnosis appeared. I tried the device, using the symptoms of a cold—sore throat, fever, nasal stuffiness, and cough. When a diagnosis of syphilis appeared, I relegated the gadget to the wastebasket.

Punch, the famous English humor magazine, recently suggested check cards as a method of speeding the medico's work. Patients in the reception room were given cards and pencils, and were asked to check the following points:

1. I have pain . . . cough.
2. I have not had a wink of sleep . . . a drop to drink . . . a square meal for weeks . . . months . . . years.
3. I am beginning to feel better . . . worse . . . my age.
4. I put everything down to the stuff they put in bread these days . . . experience . . . expense . . . visions.
5. I can't see why I can't have another bottle of the red . . . fizzy . . . usual medicine . . . day off work . . . a baby . . . a doctor.
6. The medicine you gave me last week made me better . . . worse . . . sick . . . suspicious.

If the British National Health Service continues to underpay and discourage their physicians, the need for such a card system will become acute. I have been told that more and more medicos are leaving England and fewer young adults are being attracted to medicine as a profession.

Saratoga Skipper Spent $65,000 To Primp For President's Visit

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — While the Navy is crying for more funds, the aircraft carrier Saratoga managed to scrape up $65,000 to beautify itself for President Eisenhower's recent overnight cruise. Ike's cabin alone cost $3,500 to redecorate in a style befitting the Chief Executive.

Even the ship's mascot, a sea-going rooster, got doused with white paint to match the gleaming white bulkheads. This touch was added by a disgruntled crewman who dumped a bucket of paint over the rooster as a protest against the extra work.

The fancy refurbishing was ordered by the Saratoga's skipper, Capt. Robert Moore, who alibied to this column he didn't have Ike in mind at all. The big super carrier happened to need repainting, he said, before the Presidential visit.

Moore also denied spending $65,000 which, he said, was the ship's total repair budget for the quarter. He claimed the cabin, where Ike slept one night, had been ruined by workmen and needed refixing anyhow.

Other Saratoga officers, interviewed by this column, disputed their skipper. They pointed out the Saratoga was launched only a year ago and didn't need a paint job already. They also claimed the cabin, selected for Ike by the Secret Service, was perfectly shipshape. Capt. Moore spent $3,500 refurbishing and redecorating it, they said, simply to impress the President.

The Saratoga's interior had been a beige color which didn't sparkle enough to suit Moore. He also complained that the deck looked like "mustard yellow" to him. After word that the President might come aboard, Moore ordered the whole works repainted white and the deck re-tiled with expensive green-and-white Kentile.

The Saratoga happens to be the biggest ship in the Navy. To redecorate it takes a lot of paint and tile. Crew members claim the captain not only spent the full $65,000 repair budget, but used up every cent available to the ship. The supply officer can't buy enough pencils to carry on the paper work, they say, until new funds are allotted at the end of the fiscal year.

One officer, Lt. Com. Eugene Cash, complained that Moore's repainting order technically violated naval regulations. He asked Moore to sign the order in writing. But the skipper angrily refused.

"There was no reason to sign," he explained to this column, "because my order did NOT violate naval regulations."

Moore also ordered an officer to get another set of slip covers for the furniture in the admiral's cabin, which Ike was first expected to use. To get them the officer started looking into some furniture that Moore had brought with him from his last ship, the escort carrier Siboney.

Subordinates claim Moore confined the officer to quarters for ten days for getting into his furniture. Moore says the officer put dirty slip covers on the furniture intended for Ike's use, but denies taking any disciplinary action.

Somehow, Florida's Congressman A. S. Herlong got wind that the Saratoga had spent thousands of dollars sprucing up for Ike. He asked the Navy for a full report, and the Navy wired Moore for his explanation.

He promptly ordered the records of every crew member searched to find out who came from Herlong's district and might have tipped him off. Moore then wired the Pentagon that he had inherited such a dirty ship he had been forced to repaint and redecorate. He carefully destroyed all copies of his wire, presumably to conceal his reply from officers who knew what condition the ship had been in.

Bob Moore is a dashing officer and crackerjack seaman. His superiors say he is a hot prospect for promotion to admiral. Even his most disgruntled subordinates admit he can handle a ship masterfully. But they say he has expensive tastes which he is inclined to gratify at the taxpayers' expense.

After he took command of the Saratoga, he refurbished and redecorated his cabin though it was almost brand new. He even installed a smallilly pond in one corner. At Mayport, Fla., he added a couple palm bushes. These mysteriously disappeared over the ship's side. Moore says the palms were presented to him by a steward.

"I don't know who threw them overboard, but I was glad to get rid of them," he says.

Moore also ordered an RCA hi-fi set which he admits was paid out of the crew's recreation fund.

"The recreation fund is intended for officers, too," he explains. While the ship was tied up for several weeks at the Brooklyn Navy Yard, he used a government car and chauffeur to drive back and forth to his apartment every day.

"That's permissible," he told this column. "Anyway, I usually had ship's business to attend to en route."

Capt. Moore ended the interview cheerfully.

"I appreciate your calling me," he said, but I'm afraid you don't have much of a story."

On The Side

By E. V. Durling

Too many men have the appearance of being the fathers of their wives rather than their husbands. There are innumerable married couples of the same age in which the wife looks 15 to 20 years younger than her husband. In cases where the husband is about 10 years older than his wife, he looks his age. If the wife appears to be 15 years younger than she is, then it is as I said. The man appears more like a father than a husband. A sad state of affairs. However, some husbands are doing something about it. In Paris there is an organization devoted exclusively to the rejuvenation of the appearance of middle-aged men. There are places in New York where a man can streamline down to something akin to the figure of his youth. He can also have facial treatments and hair rejuvenation. He, too, can take 10 or 15 years off his appearance. Many wives view this situation with alarm. They have a feeling if a man begins to look young he may get too many "young ideas." They could be right.

REWARD A taxicab driver told me he found a bag in his cab containing $2,000 in cash. He returned it to the owner and received a reward of $100. He was satisfied. However, other taxicab drivers said the reward was too low. What do you think? How should such a reward be figured? That is, on what percentage of the value?

AMONG THE MARRIED Know anybody depressed because the marriage is childless? The most comprehensive work on that situation is a booklet titled "Childless Marriage" by I. C. Rubin, which also includes articles by internationally celebrated experts on the subject. This book is issued by the British Medical Association and is sold for the equivalent of about 20 cents.

PASSING BY Arlene Dahl. Magnificently proportioned, titian-tressed actress. She and her husband, Fernando Lamas are about to celebrate their third wedding anniversary. HORSES AND WOMEN The Hollywoodians with most beautiful legs are Marlene Dietrich, Virginia Mayo, Martha Raye, Mitzi Gaynor, Claudette Colbert and Jane Wyman. That's what Willy de Mond says. WICKED CITY Note Paris referred to as "a wicked city." Paris is not so wicked. Just a little gayer than the average municipality. London is somewhat wicked. That is, in certain sections. ## Franklin Area Notes Increase In Construction

Many New Homes Are Under Way

FRANKLIN, W. Va. — The building industry in the Franklin area is enjoying a brisk spurt in activity as homes and business structures are now going up at a rapid pace.

Work on the $95,000 Franklin Grade School addition is moving along on schedule, and a number of other business structures and residences are in various stages of construction.

Henry T. Elden, Charleston, who is the architect for the school addition, said everything is going according to plans.

The grade school project involves the addition to the present school of eight classrooms and four lavatories, one each for boys and girls on both the first and second floors. Also included in the job is the installation of asphalt tile in the corridors of both the existing building and the new addition, placing rubber treads on the stairs of the present building and repainting both the interior and exterior of the existing structure.

The contract for the work was let to the Vipperman Construction Company of Beckley last January and construction began about March 20. Work is scheduled to be finished by the opening of school in the fall.

Vipperman's bid on the contract was $94,665, but Superintendent Floyd J. Dahmer said the total cost of the project, including architect fees, furniture for the rooms and miscellaneous items, would probably run to approximately $108,000.

Home Construction

Homes that are being built in the immediate vicinity of Franklin at this time include those of Mrs. E. W. Dolly, Dr. H. Byrd Teter and Milton Propst.

Mrs. Dolly's new home is located on Main Street between the residence of George D. Moyers and the EUB Church parsonage. It is an eight-room, ranch type structure of brick veneer, and she expects it to be completed early in July. J. I. Hancock and Lystie Daniels, of Elkins, are in charge of the work.

Dr. H. Byrd Teter is building a home on property acquired from the late George Harold on US 220, one-half mile north of Franklin. It, too, is a ranch type structure of brick veneer, and will contain seven rooms plus a utility room. Ernest Bland of Riverton and J. Fred Teter of Fort Seybert are supervising the building. Dr. Teter doesn't expect to move into the new home before fall.

Another new residence just getting under way is one being built by Milton Propst on the Propst Gap Road near the Casper Cowger home. He has finished pouring the footers and has the foundation almost completed. He has started on the framework.

Business Structures

Among the business structures that are now in various phases of construction in and near Franklin are a new Southern States Store, a large chicken house and the remodeling of the Dolly store building recently purchased by Hun Simmons.

The new Southern States store is located on Reynolds Addition adjacent to the Franklin High School property. It will be a 40 by 80-foot cinder block structure, and it is scheduled for completion early in July. According to Eston Teter, manager of the store, the new structure will provide the necessary room to keep on hand an ample inventory of feeds, seeds, fertilizer and farm supplies.

John Hott is in the process of completing a huge 250 by 24-foot chicken house on his property north of Franklin. It is on the site of the Bennie Snyder sawmill that burned last July.

Hott plans to house 2,000 breeder hens in the new cinder block structure. He started work on it during the latter part of February.

Buildings Being Remodeled

Hun Simmons has been working for the past several weeks on remodeling the Dolly store building which he purchased several weeks ago. He began pouring a concrete floor in the 210 by 25½-foot basement.

A project involving the moving of a house that is attracting considerable interest here is being conducted by the local American Legion Post on their property at McCoy Mill, three miles south of Franklin.

The Legion is moving the dwelling house on the property next to the Mill building, a distance of approximately 200 feet. The work is being done by L. D. Hill, contractor, of Elkins.

Lattimer Offered Grid Coaching Post At Bridgeport

Former Terp Ace Expected To Sign Pact

West Virginia School Contract Is Sent To Ex-Fort Hill Athlete

Charles Lattimer, 27, former Fort Hill High School football and basketball star, and center of University of Maryland grid teams under Coach Jim Tatum in 1951, 1952 and 1953, has been offered a contract as head football coach at Bridgeport (W. Va.) High School and is expected to sign same by Monday, according to Superintendent Upton, of Harrison county public schools.

Lattimer and his wife, the former Donna Cochenour of Cash Valley Road, are now residing near Wilmington, Delaware, where Charles is employed. He received his discharge from the Air Force in February this year.

The vacancy at Bridgeport was created after the 1956 football season when Richard Loring resigned as head coach. Bridgeport is a community of approximately 5,000 persons and is about two miles from Clarksburg.

A product of the Central YMCA-Saturday School Basketball League, Lattimer excelled in basketball, football and baseball at Fort Hill and led the scorers of the W. M. I. cage circuit. Charles played freshman basketball at the University of Maryland and was on several of Coach Jim Tatum's topnotch elevens. He played in the Sugar Bowl game on January 1, 1952, in which the Terps defeated Tennessee by the score of 28-13, and also in the Orange Bowl game of 1954 in which Oklahoma won over Maryland by the score of 7-0.

Tribe Home Runs Defeat Yanks, 11-2

Colavito Belts Grand Slammer

NEW YORK, June 25 (AP)—Cleveland's third place Indians boomed three home runs, one Rocky Colavito's first grand-slammer, for an 11-2 victory tonight that plunked the New York Yankees out of the American League lead with their worse whipping of the season.

It was the second defeat in a row—after 10 consecutive victories—for the Yankees, who fell a half game and 10 percentage points behind the Chicago White Sox. The Sox reclaimed the lead with a 2-1 victory at Boston.

Colavito's 11th home run in the ninth inning was just a parting shot in Cleveland's fourth consecutive victory. The Indians, four games back of the Yanks, had bagged it with three runs in the second and three more in the third as rookies Russ Nixon and Roger Maris each drove in two runs.

Don Mossi, 27, southpaw relief whiz who turned starter as injuries riddled Cleveland's pitching staff, won his fifth with an eight-hitter. He walked none and gave up both runs in the second inning on a double by Elston Howard and Andy Carey's sixth home run.

Colavito drove in five runs for the night, getting the Tribe started with a sacrifice fly in the second inning, when all three runs were unearned following an error by first baseman Bill Skowron.

Elks skunked Celanese, 3-0, Ritter's Social Club took the Knights of Columbus into camp, 5-3, and Pittsburgh Plate Glass won over the Loyal Order of Moose, 5-3, in games played yesterday in the Rocking Chair Softball League.

Glenn Kauffman bagged his third win of the season for the front-running Outdoor Club, limiting the Vets to five hits, while his mates collected eight off Al Sheetz, suffered his second loss against as many wins. Kauffman fanned six and collected two hits.

"Butch" Johnson also garnered two safeties.

Johnson's triple sent over the tying run and Kauffman's two-run single decided the game in the 6th inning. Fred Comer smashed a three-run homer for the V.F.W. in the first inning.

Elks Score Shutout
Dick Klavuhn tossed a one-hitter as the Elks shut out the Silkmens. It was his 7th win of the campaign against two setbacks.

Jack Kauffman's single in the fourth frame was the only hit credited to Celanese. Lou Baker, "Pooch" Orndorff and Klavuhn collected two hits each for the Elks. Only four Silkmens reached first base, three getting there in walks. The game was played in the fast time of 55 minutes.

Yaider's triple and Day's double were the big blows in Ritter's victory over the K. of C. Yaider also excelled at third base for Ritter's with two putouts and 11 assists. Suter Kegg starred in short field for the Casseys with several nice running catches. Among the Casseys' five hits was a double by Harden.

"Bud" Law Is Victor
"Bud" Law hurled Pittsburgh Plate Glass to victory over the Loyal Order of Moose, posting his first win of the season after two reverses.

The Moose collected eight hits, including a triple, double and single by Wilbur Hull and two blows by "Bud" Young. A three-run double by Bill Thompson put the Glassies ahead in the fourth inning. "Ike" Cessna rapped a two-bagger and his walk started the winning rally in the fourth frame. Scores:

White Sox Regain Lead, Edge Boston Red Sox, 2-1

Keegan Is Victor On Two-Run Homer By Walt Dropo

BOSTON, June 25 (AP)—The Chicago White Sox moved back into first place in the American League pennant fight by edging the Boston Red Sox, 2-1, tonight on a two-run homer by big Walt Dropo and six-hit pitching by veteran Bob Keegan.

The triumph, coupled with New York's 11-2 loss to Cleveland, lifted the White Sox into a half game lead over the Yankees.

Dropo broke up a scoreless deadlock with his ninth homer into the left field screen after Larry Doby led off the seventh with an infield hit.

The blast was all Keegan needed in halting six-game Boston winning streak.

The Red Sox picked up their lone run in the bottom of the seventh. With two out Sammy White doubled to right center and came around on pinch hitter Norm Zauchin's bloop single to center.

Boston starter Dave Sisler allowed three hits in the first six innings before Doby beat out a grounder to second.

Tigers Win, 7-4, In Ten Innings

WASHINGTON, June 25 (AP)—Detroit battled back from a 4-0 deficit to defeat Washington, 7-4, in 10 innings tonight. The Tigers splurged for three runs in the tenth off Truman Clevenger after Charley Maxwell kept Detroit in contention earlier with a pair of successive home runs off Pete Ramos.

Harry Byrd, who joined the Tigers today after being acquired from Birmingham, got the victory. He was the third of five Detroit pitchers. Clevenger was charged with his first loss of the season after five wins.

The victory moved the Tigers out of a fourth place tie with Boston, which lost 2-1 to Chicago.

The Senators clipped Frank Lary for four quick runs and chased him in the third inning. But Maxwell slammed a two-run homer in the fourth and opened the seventh inning with his 14th of the year. It was the 25th homer allowed by Ramos this season.

MILWAUKEE, June 25 (AP)—Rookie southpaw Danny McDevitt of Brooklyn allowed only four singles tonight as the Dodgers clipped loser Lew Burdette for three singles and a homer, defeating the Milwaukee Braves, 2-0.

Snider scored both runs, slamming his 15th homer over the right field fence in the first inning. He scored an unearned run in the ninth. He singled, went to second on Johnny Logan's fumble of Gil Hodges' grounder and scored on a single by Gino Cimoli.

The only other hit off Burdette, who struck out five and issued no walks, was a single in the eighth by Charlie Neal.

McDevitt allowed a single to Henry Aaron in the first inning, another to Frank Torre in the fourth and gave up two in the bottom of the ninth to Andy Pafko and Del Crandall.

Feller Blasts Club Owners As Arrogant

Charges Surprise, Shock Harridge

By WHITNEY SHOEMAKER

WASHINGTON, June 25 (AP)—Bob Feller, the famous right hander, aimed verbal fireballs at baseball club owners today, saying they have been "arrogant" at times and consider journeymen players as "pawns."

Feller, who blazed new strike-out records into the books before he retired last year, told the House Anti-Trust Subcommittee baseball employers need to change their outlook or they will "surely hurt" the game.

Testifying with poise and speed to match his pitching style, Feller declared baseball should be placed under the Anti-Trust and Taft-Hartley laws, with exceptions to protect a "modified" reserve clause and franchise rights.

Charges Surprise
Some of the charges he hurled in connection with the major league pension plan drew an expression of "shock and surprise" from Will Harridge, president of the American League.

Feller said it's "a joke" to hear baseball officials take credit for the pension program. He insisted it resulted from "a bitter struggle by the players against the owners and league officials."

In his turn as a witness, Harridge contended one of the owners first suggested a pension plan "and that started the negotiations."

The subcommittee also heard from Stan Musial, the St. Louis Cardinals' star, in its study of whether baseball should be covered by the anti-trust statutes.

The Supreme Court twice has held baseball exempt but last winter ruled that pro football must function under anti-trust jurisdiction.

"I think everybody likes baseball the way it is," Musial said. The handsome slugger, again leading the National League in batting, flew in from a game last night in St. Louis to testify.

Wants Reserve Clause
Musial called on Congress to let the reserve clause in player contracts stand as it is. He said he had reversed a previous idea that the effect of the clause be terminated after 10 years, explaining this was a "spur of the moment" thought when he first learned Congress intended to survey baseball operations.

The reserve clause binds a player to the club that first signs him. Some Congress members say it probably would be held to be an anti-trust violation. Proponents argue it is necessary to prevent rival teams from grabbing all the best players.

Bragan Fined $50
CHICAGO, June 25 (AP)—Bobby Bragan, manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates, was fined $50 today by National League President Warren C. Giles.

The fine, Giles said, was levied for "bush league tactics" Bragan displayed before and after he was banished by the umpires in the first game of a double-header last Sunday at Cincinnati.

In his message to the Pittsburgh Pilot, Giles said he would meet later with Bragan to discuss the situation.

Fort Hill 2 4

Fort Hill gunners battered LaVale, 1589-84x to 1583-84x, in the Western Maryland League's sixth rifle match held Sunday evening at the Morningside Drive range.

Mountain Top smallboremen clobbered Hercules, 1583-80x to 1584-90x.

Norm White's 400-23x possible sparked the successful Fort Hill attack against LaVale. Victory avenged a previous loss to LaVale, Fort Hill's only defeat this season. Jack Fulk headed the losers with 399-30x.

Oakland's Merle McClintock helped gain Mountain Top's second win of the season by posting a 400-20x possible against Hercules. Mrs. Helen Grosh paced the Hercules effort with 398-22x.

Shooting was at 50 yards with iron sights. Next Sunday the 50 and 100 yards International series will begin with Hercules and Fort Hill competing locally, and LaVale and Mountain Top contesting the Oakland range.

Health Officials Push Search For County Officer

Dr. Perry F. Prather, director of the State Department of Health, informed the Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday that he has been conferring with two good prospects in the search for a health officer for this county.

The office of Allegany County health officer has been vacant since May 1 when Dr. Winter R. Frantz resigned.

Dr. Prather said his department has been working diligently in an effort to obtain a well-qualified health officer for Allegany County.

"We are deeply aware of the extreme importance of maintaining and further developing local health services in Allegany County," he added.

Dr. Prather said it is hoped to have the local health unit affiliated with the University of Pittsburgh School of Public Health. This would stimulate interest and aid in keeping up with development in public health, he said.

It would also help in the recruitment of a competent staff, Dr. Prather pointed out.

Dr. Prather told the commission that he has been conferring with two good prospects in the search for a health officer for this county.

Also in connection with public health, a letter was received from Dr. W. Ross Cameron, acting county health officer, stating that four property owners whose sewage systems were affected by the modernization of the M.L. Savage road between U. S. Route 40 and Corriganville have installed proper septic tanks and distribution fields.

Sidewalk Work Begins

Work on 5,000 square feet of sidewalk by the John S. Cook and Son contracting firm got under way yesterday on Massachusetts Avenue, according to Street Commissioner William H. Buchholz.

New Trial Motion Denied By Judge

Chief Judge George Henderson yesterday denied a motion for a new trial in the case in which a local woman was awarded $827 by a jury in Circuit Court in her suit against the Cumberland Coca-Cola Company.

Caroline V. Henderson, no relation to the jurist, was awarded the $827 for damages after a hearing on her charge that a bottle of the defendant's soft drink contained a foreign substance which made her ill.

The ruling by Judge Henderson came yesterday after arguments by counsel for both sides. Edward J. Ryan and William L. Wilson represented the woman while William C. and William Walsh were counsel for the company.

Contracts Let For Court House Repairs

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners have awarded contracts for two more improvements in the Court House.

A contract to redecorate and paint the interior of all rooms on the first floor of the building has been awarded to George V. Steele, city, for $3,880. Steele was low bidder.

Other bids were made by Roylin Seaber, Westport, $5,865, and R. R. Landis, Rothsville, Pa., $6,505. The work will include scraping of radiator pipes and bronzing both the pipes and radiators.

The George Construction Company was awarded a contract to J. Ryan and William L. Wilson represented the woman while William C. and William Walsh were counsel for the company.

to R. L. Lapp to install toilet facilities in the county jail. The work is being done on recommendation of the April grand jury which inspected the various county buildings, including the jail.

Lapp's bid was $476 to furnish the material and install the toilet facility.

An offer of $100 for Lots 60 and 61 on Offutt Street near the C&O Canal was received from Robert E. Lewis, 217 Offutt Street. Lewis said he wants to erect a two-car garage on the lots.

The commissioners took the offer under advisement pending a check by the Assessing Department.

The request of Floyd O. Shaw to operate a junk yard in Vale Summit was ordered turned over to J. Walker Chapman, roads supervisor, for investigation.

Shaw said the site of the proposed junk yard is 600 feet from the nearest road and there are no houses in the vicinity.

Heat waves approach gradually, but depart abruptly with a thunderstorm. Cold waves reverse the process.

Street Planing Delayed By Rain

Rain delayed start of yesterday's schedule for the heater-planing equipment being used to smooth out certain city streets, Commissioner William H. Buchholz said.

Work will resume as soon as paved surfaces are dry, he added. Yesterday's schedule included Bedford Street from Centre to mechanic and North Centre to Baltimore Street.

Playgrounds To Get Board Games

Board games for the city's playgrounds are being prepared for distribution, according to Mrs. Eva M. Hogan, assistant recreation director.

The work is in charge of area supervisors, Jo Ann Eckard and Dorothy Heavener.

Games include checkers, dominoes, Chinese checkers and Kalah, Mrs. Hogan said.

Secrets Of Charm by John Robert Powers

Sway-Back Posture

"Nothing seems to fit or look right on me because I have a sway back . . . is there anything I can do?", writes a young reader from Ann Arbor, Michigan.

Your problem is not an easy one, but it is a common one. We know how your figure seems to lean backward, like a tree blown by the wind. Usually your skin dips in the rear and hikes up in the front. And we often find that the main difficulty is the incorrect placement of your weight. You're probably putting the entire weight of your body on your heels. This is the action that throws you off balance and tips you backward. Try rolling your weight forward from your heels through the center of your arches to the balls of your feet.

Right, Then Left

Remove your shoes and make a 5-minute daily exercise of transferring your weight from heels to toes. Do this first on the right foot, then on the left and finally on both together.

We have found that the average sway-back condition can be corrected with daily exercise. But you must be faithful. For a book let of exercises, send 10c and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to me at this paper and ask for "Your Posture." Sit cross-legged against a flat surface. Raise your arms over your head with palms facing each other and bend body forward. Round your back and as you straighten it against the wall, see if you can't make each vertebra of your spine touch. If you make a correction of about an inch in a month, that's good progress. But, after six weeks, if you aren't able to get the small of your back to touch, then we suggest you see an orthopedic physician.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, June 25 (INS)—Talked with Donna Reed and she's an excited girl about going to London to co-star with Stewart Granger in "The Whole Truth" for James and John Woolf.

"I love London," she said. "You remember I spent much time there last year making 'Beyond Mombassa' and Tony and I made many friends whom we'll be glad to see again. Besides, the picture is a real thriller about the wife of a famed movie producer who is accused of murdering an actress. I am the wife and Stewart the producer."

Donna tells me she will take all four of her children including the newcomer, five-weeks-old Anne. "Tony (Owen) will go with us but of course he can't remain all the time." Starting date for "The Whole Truth," a former BBC TV show, is September 16.

Very lucky is Director Stan Donen to be alive. While he was directing a scene in "Kiss Them For Me" from a camera raft at San Pedro Harbor, he was hit by a landing PBY. Cary Grant and the rest of the company thought he was dead.

When I asked him about it he said, "Fortunately it was only a glancing blow—and I soon recovered."

I also checked with him his plan to film "Kind Sir," which starred Mary Martin and Charles Boyer on the Broadway stage, for his independent film company. He said Playwright Norman Krasna and he are discussing that play and also "The Billionaire."

Had a visit with Lt. Gov. Rex Bell of Nevada, who many people believe will some day be governor, he is so popular.

Rex has been married to the "It" girl, Clara Bow, for many years and tells me Clara is not very well. He says he brings her home, but invariably she has to return to the Los Angeles hospital where she has been for many years.

Rex spoke of their two sons, George, 22, who is in the Marines, and Tony, 19, who is studying to be a dentist.

In a few days Helen Hayes and author Anita Loos, her close friend, leave for Switzerland where Helen will address the International Polio Association. Helen has never ceased working to try and find a cure for this dread disease which took the life of her lovely daughter, Mary MacArthur.

From Switzerland the two girls travel to Montecatini where they will take the cure and work on "To the One I Love the Best," the Lady Mendel story. This is based on the Bemelman book which some of Elsie's friends failed to appreciate, but I understand some of the roughest parts are being smoothed out.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Can't bear it! When Elvis departed MGM he astonished his waves.

co-workers by presenting them with a paper bag filled with many of his photographs. "All Shook Up" perfume, and other gadgets that his company manufactures. A thrifty guy is Elvis.

The gleam in Ginny Simms' eye is caused by the attention of T. Walker ("Moon") Mullins, Beverly Hills stockbroker.

Danny Kaye has accepted an invitation from the New York Philharmonic to conduct the long-haired musicians in January for a charity concert.

The life of Martha Raye is being written by Sam and Bella Spewack for Broadway production. One of the most eagerly awaited books is Robert Farr's biography of the late Edna St. Vincent Millay, "My Candle Burns at Both Ends." It won't come out until December of this year, but Columbia has an option on it.

N. Y. Eggs And Butter

NEW YORK, June 25 (AP)—(USDA)—Eggs were unsettled today. Receipts 16,000. Nearby: Whites: Top quality (48-50 lbs) 38-40; mediums 29-35; smalls 23½-24; percents 17-18.

WIFE PRESERVER

Never soak a rubber scraper in water, as it will soften the rubber. Wash it as soon after using which some of Elsie's friends failed to appreciate, but I understand some of the roughest parts are being smoothed out.

Portholes in ships are made round instead of square because a round opening is easier to make watertight and is also more resistant to the pounding of waves.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Police Arrest Armed Youths At Altamont

Two Teen-Agers In Stolen Jeep

Two teen-age youths from Everett, Pa., wanted for armed robbery and burglary by Pennsylvania authorities, were arrested yesterday afternoon at Altamont by Maryland State Police.

Lt. William E. O'Hara, commander of LaVale Barracks who figured in the arrest along with Capt. Charles W. Magaha, Troop B Commander, and Tfc. Milton G. Hart, said the two youths admitted taking a 1940 Willys Jeep and two new .22 calibre revolvers from Everett.

Pennsylvania State Police at Bedford, said the two youths held up a service station in Coalton, Huntingdon County, Pa., after the theft of the jeep and revolvers in Everett. Huntingdon County is adjacent to Bedford County.

He said they surrendered to police after being cornered on a side road at Altamont in Garrett County.

Boys Are Spotted

Shortly after state police at LaVale Barracks had been alerted to the thefts, they received a call from a resident of the Altamont area who said two youths had been seen in that vicinity with the jeep.

A similar tip had been received that the two boys had been spotted in Franklin, near Westernport. Tfc. Hart and Westernport authorities checked on the tip.

Meanwhile Lieutenant O'Hara and Captain Magaha, who was in Cumberland on an inspection tour, left for Altamont, picking up Trooper Hart at Bloomington.

When they arrived at Altamont, police learned the two boys had left about five minutes earlier and were traveling in the direction of Kitzmiller.

Cornered by Police

Within a few minutes the police noticed the jeep coming back down the road. The youths apparently spotting the parked police car, turned around.

The police gave chase and cornered the youths about three-quarters of a mile away on a side road along the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad tracks at the Altamont Bridge.

The youths, Ronald Leo Stevey, 17, a native of Midland, and Allen Jackson, 18, Washington, D. C. native, who was driver of the vehicle, were lodged in a cell at LaVale Barracks last night.

They will be taken to Circuit Court this morning to waive extradition to Pennsylvania.

Flood Control Problem Aired

Problems involved in the relocation of power lines during the construction of Section 2 of the Potomac River phase of the Cumberland flood control project were discussed at a conference yesterday at City Hall.

The meeting was called to work out a program to secure fill material in the area where the new power line will be built.

The new line must be located in the bed of the old C & O Canal, in the area south of the Winew Street Subway, and considerable earth will be needed to put the line on grade.

Erich Gronbach, of the Chicago office and Roy Hubble, project manager, represented the Albrecht firm, and A. H. Wilson, vice president, the Hazelwood company.

Attending for the Corps of Engineers were P. H. Lowe, Washington; Rex E. Dexter, resident engineer, and William Williams, inspector. C. R. Nuzum, city engineer, represented the city.

The picture was taken as the shots were being given yesterday in Wiley Ford. Negotiations To Open July 8

Local 26, Rubber Workers Union, will go into wage negotiations with the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company here on July 8, according to James Stein, president.

The union said the wage talks here are expected to follow the industry pattern, adding that Goodyear wage talks open July 2.

Hearings Set In Disturbance

Hearings have been set for 9:15 a. m. Saturday for several persons who have been charged with disturbance of the peace following an early morning disturbance outside a Central Avenue eating establishment on Sunday.

Lt. John E. Sherry said last night several more warrants have been obtained for persons allegedly involved in the disturbance, in which a policeman was reported to have been manhandled and a 15-year-old boy was struck on the forehead, apparently by a patrolman's blackjack.

Three men, Charles Denmark, 319 Central Avenue; John E. Wilson, 329 Central Avenue, and John W. Cooper Jr., 26 Bedford Street, have posted $100 bond each for their appearance at the hearings on Saturday.

Lt. Sherry, in charge of the 1 a. m. to 9 a. m. police shift, explained that early Sunday morning two unidentified men entered police headquarters and complained that another man tried to stop their car as they drove along Central Avenue.

Chain Of Low Dams Proposed For Potomac

Riverbend Plan Meets Opposition

ROCKVILLE, Md., June 25 (AP)—A chain of low dams upstream from Harpers Ferry, W. Va., developed for water supply only, was favored by a large majority of citizens who expressed their views to the Corps of Engineers at a hearing here today.

An audience of about 350 heard more than 30 witnesses during the five-hour meeting.

Oppose Big Dam

For the most part, the witnesses opposed an 85-foot high dam at Riverbend which would create a 36,000-acre lake on the Potomac River reaching from just above Great Falls to Harpers Ferry. The engineers say such a dam is needed for flood and pollution control.

Backed-up waters from such an impoundment, many of the witnesses said, would inundate a valuable recreational area, including 35 miles of the historic C & O canal. Wildlife would be displaced, it was argued, and drawdowns of about 10 to 30 feet within the reservoir during summer months would create "350 miles of unsightly, evil-smelling mud flats that would discourage even the most reckless from going for a swim."

Cites Tax Loss

"Instead of a beautiful river gorge in its natural state offering refuge for deer, fox, raccoon, possum and duck, would be an artificial lake with the present peace and quiet replaced by the roar of speedboats and out-board motors," Waverly Taylor declared.

He is a leader in the coordinating committee on the Potomac, composed of about 70 organizations and individuals interested in the development of the Potomac River basin.

Arthur Hanson, a Rockville attorney, declared that revenues of more than $400,000 yearly would be lost by removing from tax rolls the residential and farm land that would be flooded.

Washington 1. Cleveland reported that all 97 members of the West Montgomery County Citizens Assn. who attended a recent meeting expressed opposition to a Riverbend dam.

Urges Retention Dams

Author Frederick Gutheim said the engineers had not given "adequate attention" to the abatement of pollution.

The engineers have estimated that up to one billion gallons of water a day will be required to push the river's pollution load past Washington by 1970.

Gutheim proposed a three-point program for the engineers:

1. A 10-year plan to clean up the Potomac and make it fit for water supply, recreation and other uses;
2. A comprehensive program of retention dams, similar to the Savage River Dam on the upper Potomac—perhaps 40 such dams in all; and
3. Development of a buffer reserve of water in the lower Potomac when emergency required.

June 30 Is Important Date For Local Disabled People

The Cumberland Social Security district office will be open all day Saturday, in addition to its normal weekday schedule, James E. Robertson, district manager, said yesterday.

This special office schedule from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. Saturday is established to accept last-minute applications from severely disabled people who may be eligible for Social Security disability.

Mr. Robertson pointed out that people who have been disabled and unable to work over a long period of time must apply before June 30 for disability benefits or to have their earnings records "frozen". Otherwise they may lose their right to disability payments and also their own and their family's right to old-age and survivors insurance payments.

Any severely disabled person who has worked under Social Security for at least five years and has been disabled for six months or more should get in touch with the Cumberland district office right away. If he is between 50 and 65, he may be eligible for monthly disability payments. If he is under 50, he may be eligible to protect his future right to disability payments as well as the rights of himself and his family to old-age and survivors payments.

"To get Social Security disability insurance benefits at age 50 or over, or to have your Social Security record frozen," said Mr. Robertson, "you must have Social Security credit for at least five years of work in the 10 years before you became disabled. At least a year and a half of that credit must be for work during the three years just before disability began."

"In addition, you must have a disability which, in the words of the law, makes you unable to engage in any substantial gainful activity. It must be the kind of physical or mental condition which will show up in a medical examination or tests, and it must have lasted for at least six months and be expected to continue for a long and indefinite time."

Mr. Robertson emphasized that any disabled person who feels that he might qualify under these provisions of the Social Security Act should get in touch with the Social Security district office before June 30 by letter, phone, or in person. If he is not able to do so himself, someone else may make the contact for him.

Persons who have previously inquired about their disability status need do nothing at the present time until contacted by the Social Security office.

Forest Camps Bids Will Be Opened July 11

Sites Are Located In Garrett County

Bids will be opened July 11 for the construction of two State Department of Public Welfare Forestry camps to be located in Garrett County, one at New Germany and the other across the county line from Lonaconing.

The camps are to be operated by the State Department of Public Welfare in cooperation with the State Department of Forests and Parks. Each will be similar to the camp already located at Green Ridge State Forest and which was established in May 1955.

The camps each will accommodate 26 boys who will be assigned from the Maryland Training School for Boys and Boys Village of Maryland. The successful operation of the Green Ridge camp was instrumental in the decision of the Maryland General Assembly of 1956 to provide necessary funds for the expansion of the program with the two additional camps.

Three buildings will be constructed at each location; one to house the kitchen, dining area and recreation area, to be 104 feet long and 20 feet wide with an additional 40 feet by 32 feet rumpus room at one end; a staff cottage to contain an office, five bedrooms, combination living-dining area with unit kitchenette and two baths, to be 49 feet by 24 feet; and a dormitory building, 133 feet by 20 feet, which will house the 26 boys, with toilet facilities, locker room, staff quarters and storage room. All the buildings will be one-story structures.

Bids are being requested on two different types of construction, one to cover prefabricated type metal buildings and the other to provide for frame construction. If the metal buildings are used they will be mounted on concrete block foundation walls with concrete slab on grade. The frame structures will be constructed on piers. The contracts will include interior partitions, heating, plumbing and electrical installations, with utility lines extended five feet beyond the building lines.

Part of the boys' training at the camps will be to accomplish complete interior finish of floors, ceilings, shelving and walls, as well as extending water lines and sanitary lines. They also will work in the fields.

Peskin Property Deed Is Filed For Record

Two parcels of property on Baltimore Street owned by Mrs. Martha L. Peskin have been deeded to Peskin's Inc.

According to a deed filed yesterday in the office of the Clerk of Allegany County Circuit Court, the buildings are located at 145-147 Baltimore Street and 131-133 Baltimore Street. Tax stamps indicated the value was about $166,000.

In April 1944 Mrs. Peskin, her late husband, Morton W. Peskin, and their daughter, Phyllis E. Peskin, organized the Peskin Realty Corporation, the name of which was changed to Peskin's Inc. in July 1949.

The deed records that the purpose of the corporation was to take title to both of the properties, and the intention of Mrs. Peskin was to convey both properties to the corporation in exchange for certain stock and other considerations.

Appropriate corporate action was taken by the corporation to receive title to the properties. The stock and other considerations were taken care of and the deeds were prepared but not executed and recorded by Mrs. Peskin and her late husband, who died in January this year.

On May 2, 1940 the J. H. Holzshu Company and Liberty Trust Company conveyed to Mrs. Peskin the property at 145-147 Baltimore Street. On May 26, 1938 Harry L. Stegmaier conveyed the other Baltimore Street property to Mrs. Peskin.
